

Four-County Parade Route In Two Boroughs

ROUTE of the Four-County Firemen's Assn. parade through the twin boroughs Saturday, June 21 was announced last night by the parade committee of Acme Hose Co., East Stroudsburg, host organization.

Present plans call for a parade made up of seven divisions, one of the largest in the history of the association. One division will form on Maple Ave. and the other six on side streets south of Maple Ave.

Marvin Abel, general chairman, said the parade will move out at 1:30 p.m. on N. Courtland St., thence to Crystal St., down Washington St. to the State Bridge and cross into Stroudsburg.

The marchers will turn north on Second St., thence to the intersection with Fifth St., where the parade will make a sharp turn south and move to Sarah St., west to Eighth St., south to Main St. and back to the bridge.

After reentering East Stroudsburg, the marchers will double back on Washington St. to Day St. and the firemen's lot, where refreshment stands will be set up.

Up to last night, a total of 68 marching units had notified the parade committee of their intentions to participate. Included in this number were 35 fire companies. The balance represents musical organizations and women's auxiliaries.

The parade will climax the week-long annual convention of the Four-County Firemen's Assn.

One of the feature events of the convention will be the Water Folies to be presented June 17, 18 and 19. As an added attraction for the benefit of children, firemen announced last night that Chief Halftown, a fullblood Indian who appears on a Philadelphia television program, will give two performances at the Water Folies.

Sentences Levied On Five For Alleged Conspiracy Against Turnpike Body

HARRISBURG (AP)—Prison sentences ranging from 10 months to five years were given five men yesterday for their part in an alleged 19 1/2 million dollar conspiracy against the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission.

Each of the five—including two former toll road commissioners—was freed on bail pending sentence appeal before the State Superior Court.

Judge Homer L. Kreider spent less than two hours in hearing last minute appeals for clemency before sentencing the men convicted ten months ago of engaging in what Gov. Leader described as "one of the greatest public swindles of all time."

Sentenced were: Thomas J. Evans, 74, Coal-dale, former Turnpike Commission chairman, 2 year prison sentence, $500 fine and costs on conspiracy and one to two years and $5,000 fine for misconduct in office. The misconduct term will begin at the close of the conspiracy term.

James F. Torrance, 70, Export, former commissioner, one to two years, $500 fine and costs for conspiracy and one to two years, $1,000 fine and costs for misconduct in office, that sentence to follow conspiracy term.

Charles W. Stickler, Jr., president of Manu-Mine Research and Development Co., Reading, two years, $500 fine and costs for conspiracy and five years for false pretenses to run concurrently with conspiracy sentence.

Clayton A. Landside, Scranton, former general manager and vice president of Manu-Mine 10 months to 23 months, $500 fine and costs for conspiracy and one to two years and costs for false pretenses to begin at close of conspiracy term.

Paul J. McNeill, Harrisburg, former commission chief finance officer, 10 months to 23 months, $500 and costs for conspiracy.

The sentencing came exactly one year and one day from the opening of the trial which lasted almost two months.

Stengle Begins Prison Term

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Faber E. Stengle, puffy, bald and 67, went to prison yesterday for stealing over $200,000 from schools of which he used to be superintendent.

Stengle, who admitted swindling the suburban Collingdale School system, was delivered to Eastern Penitentiary to start serving 12 1/2 to 25 years which was imposed in Media, Delaware County, Wednesday.

Applications For Plans

Commissioners Back Watershed Projects

COUNTY Commissioners agreed yesterday morning to cooperate with the Soil Conservation District in working toward a plan for watershed protection and flood prevention on local streams.

At their regular meeting, Commissioners formally signed applications which will ask Federal and State agencies to draw up plans for projects along Pocono and Brodheads Creeks.

The county also agreed to serve as a co-sponsor with Wayne and Pike Counties of a portion of the Greene-Dreher Watershed project. About 4,000 acres of land along Wallenpaupack Creek in Monroe are involved in that project.

In presenting the outline of the local projects to Commissioners, Donald Dinsmore, area conservationist, pointed out that none of the projects can be done "without the cooperation of local residents and property owners."

Involved in the project will be hillside conservation measures which prevent washing off of topsoil and siltation of flood prevention structures on streams.

In addition to this, dry dams are constructed along the stream tributaries.

Dinsmore went on to point out that these stipulations are part of the 1954 upstream watershed protection and flood prevention law.

Local communities must act as the "contracting agents." The Federal government furnishes the money for work which is done, however.

Once the projects are completed, local municipalities (the county in this case) would assume responsibility for maintenance of the structures along the streams.

Local government officials also agree to make an annual inspection of all flood prevention measures along the streams and of hillside conservation measures. In the event of heavy storms, the local government is also expected to make post-storm inspections of sites.

Dinsmore explained that, in making application for the plan, the local bodies are not committing themselves to approval of completion of recommended projects. That approval comes after the plans are submitted.

The plan will also develop what is known as a "benefit-cost ratio." To gain Federal approval of work, this should show that about $1.20 of benefit to the area affected would be gained for each $1 spent on projects, Dinsmore said.

Dinsmore pointed out that the "holding of water along streams" in the area would automatically produce great benefits.

In response to questions from Commissioners, Dinsmore said that he could not say what the cost of maintenance would be for structures on tributaries. This, he said, would be part of the estimated data developed in the plan for the two streams.

He reminded commissioners that such small stream programs are aimed at retention of water and runoff from soil and do not, ordinarily, include stream clearance or the construction of major stream dams.

With the application of commissioners, the suggested project took a second and major step forward.

Request for the planning was given full approval Wednesday night by Monroe County Soil Conservation District directors at their meeting.

From the county the application will now go to State and Federal agencies for study.

Tornadoes Claim Lives Of 28 People

MENOMONIE, Wis. (AP)—Triolet tornadoes which swept four northwestern Wisconsin counties Wednesday night killed 28 persons and left a 90 mile path of destruction.

Gov. Vernon Thomson proclaimed the region a disaster area yesterday after a tour by plane and car. He called what he saw horrible.

Joseph Rigney, meteorologist of the Madison, Wis., Weather Bureau, said yesterday three funnels dropped from a boiling cloud Wednesday night and moved in a death-dealing phalanx through four counties.

Damage far exceeded a million dollars. The Red Cross estimated damage to farms alone at $500,000.

The agency said 350 persons were injured and that 119 of these had to be hospitalized. In all 615 families were affected. More than 100 homes were destroyed, 165 others were badly damaged and another 340 damaged to a lesser extent.

Harshest Hit Colfax, a town of 1,000 population northeast of Menomonee, bore the brunt of the storm, in lives and suffering.

Officials counted 12 dead there. Another 35 were hurt, some seriously.

The storm spared the Colfax business district, where at supertime there were few people. Instead, it whipped the north and south ends of the community.

Some houses appeared to have exploded. Others were crooked or leaning at crazy angles on their foundations. Still others were just blown away. Altogether, 100 homes were shattered or badly damaged. The storm scarred many more.

Gov. Thomson, flying in a National Guard plane, saw where the storm entered Wisconsin from Minnesota, near Osceola.

It swung to the southeast, hitting several farms. The tornadoes ripped a trailer camp near Knapp, killing a woman. A farmer in the area also died.

Four more died as the storm approached Menomonee. The funnels took one life each at the small communities of Wilson, Thorp, Rice Lake and Stanley and two in Boyd. Four died near Chippewa Falls before the storm blew itself out near Eau Claire and Waussau.

Next Town Colfax, hardest hit of them all, was a neat little town before the storm.

"We're determined to see it neat again," said Mayor W. T. Everson as the cleanup work began.

Gov. Thomson called out a fourth National Guard unit and said he would have a total of 35 state traffic patrolmen in the area.

Guardsmen, patrolmen and local officers continued their probe of the uprooted countryside. A few residents of Colfax were not yet accounted for and some farms and overturned cars were yet to be searched.

The storm cut telephone communications in the area, isolating 14 communities and making search operations more difficult.

The homeless moved in with neighbors or were given cots in the village hall. Food and clothing drives were started by the local Chamber of Commerce.

Yesterday's Deaths

William F. Prutzman, 76, of 1508 N. Fifth St., Stroudsburg, died at his home at 10 a.m. yesterday.

Mrs. Olive M. Bartholomew, 77, of 11 Fairview Ave., East Stroudsburg, died yesterday at 3 a.m. at the General Hospital of Monroe County.

Marie Bellotti

City Court Rules Against Marie Bellotti

A NEW YORK CITY surrogate court ruled Wednesday that Marie Bellotti, 36, who claims she was married to the late Elias A. Cohen, may have ruined her chances to share in his estate by accepting $20,000 from the executors five years ago.

Surrogate S. Samuel DiFalco said the only way she can fight the will, in which Cohen left her nothing, is to prove the out-of-court settlement with the executors was brought about by fraud.

Marie had claimed that she was married three times to Cohen with him officiating at the first two ceremonies. The third, according to the woman, was a contractual marriage in East Stroudsburg, witnessed by Herbert G. Bonser, then a justice of the peace there.

In Process Bonser is currently in the process of bringing "blackmail by injury to reputation" charges against Rev. William F. Wunder, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, in connection with the Bellotti case.

A continuation of the hearing in the case is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Friday, June 13, before Peace Justice Clifford Bush of Barrett Township.

Rev. Wunder, who pleaded innocent to the charge, became involved through a statement made by Bonser, then a member of his congregation, repudiating Bonser's story of witnessing the marriage.

Rev. Wunder has said that the release Marie signed in March, 1953, in settlement of a Supreme Court suit she brought against Cohen's estate for $75,000 for work, labor, services and money she lent Cohen and for a Cadillac she said he bought her but didn't pay for.

"A complete defense" and denies her "the right to enforce the claims of a surviving spouse against the estate."

Creates Issue Di Falco added that she has pleaded fraud by the executors in procuring her release "and so creates an issue of fact requiring a trial on the merits."

If she does not file an amended reply asking that the release be rescinded and listing the "specifications of fraud upon which she relies," DiFalco said, he will grant the executors' motion for a summary judgment against her.

Cohen died in 1952 at the age of 72, leaving his estimated $100,000 estate to six sisters, a brother and two foundations for college scholarships and needy children.

The Bellotti woman began her fight for a share of the estate in 1955, claiming she was not only Cohen's secretary from 1940 until his death, but also his wife.

Strauss Quits As Atomic Chairman

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lewis L. Strauss resigned yesterday as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission effective June 30.

The June 30 date is the time of expiration of Strauss' term.

In accepting the resignation with great regret, President Eisenhower said he takes some satisfaction from Strauss' agreement to serve in a new post—special presidential assistant in charge of promoting the atoms for peace program.

In his letter to Eisenhower, Strauss wrote that, "For the reasons which I set before you some time ago, I then believed and continue to believe that circumstances beyond the control of either of us make a change in the chairmanship of the commission advisable."

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said in response to a question that although Strauss referred only to the chairmanship, he also is resigning as a member of the commission.

Hagerty said an announcement of a successor to Strauss probably will be made before the end of this week.

Hagerty said he was unable to clarify or elaborate on Strauss' statement that circumstances beyond the control of Eisenhower or Strauss make a change advisable.

Long a controversial figure, Strauss has some powerful opposition in Congress, as well as supporters.

Recently he has been a center of controversy in the behind-the-scenes debate over whether the United States should suspend nuclear tests. Strauss has advocated continuation of such tests.

Hagerty said Strauss will serve as chairman of the American delegation to the international scientific conference on peaceful uses of atomic energy, to be held in Geneva, Switzerland, in September.

In addition to being chairman of the AEC, Strauss has served as special adviser to Eisenhower on atomic energy matters.

In response to a question, Hagerty said the two jobs go together and that Strauss is giving up both, but will take on the new assignment as special assistant for promotion of the atoms for peace program.

Strauss was one of the original members of the AEC. Appointed by President Truman, he served originally from 1946 through 1960.

Eisenhower named him to the commission again early in 1953, and made him chairman.

Strauss, without saying specifically that he had decided to quit the commission, announced May 9 that the President had offered him a new five-year term and he had accepted it.

That statement prompted speculation on possible successors with one report having it that Strauss favored Harold S. Vance, a member of the commission as his successor.

Bulletin

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House balked at President Eisenhower's bid to cut Army manpower by 30,000 and then whipped to unanimous passage last night a record peacetime defense fund of $38,409,561,000.

The roll call vote on passage was 389-0.

Identities Withheld

HARRISBURG (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas McBride ruled yesterday the identity of a person furnishing information to the Liquor Control Board as to violations cannot be revealed except by order of the trial court.

Rebels Reject De Gaulle's Plea

BONE, Algeria (AP)—Premier De Gaulle appealed yesterday to Moslem nationalist fighters to leave their mountain hideouts and join ranks with 10 million Frenchmen of Algeria. But rebel spokesmen abroad rejected the plea for unity and said the fighting will go on.

De Gaulle was cheered wildly by European and Moslem crowds at huge rallies in Constantine and Bone, both hot beds of rebel resistance in turbulent eastern Algeria. Strong French garrisons control the area at gunpoint.

He referred* to the rebels as "those led by despair but who fought with courage a cruel brother-against-brother fight."

No French statesman ever has spoken in such terms to the Algerian rebels, undefeated in more than 3 1/2 years of fighting.

A spokesman in Cairo for the Algerian National Liberation Front (FLN), spearhead of the revolt, said it could not accept De Gaulle's program for integrating Algeria's European and Moslem populations with equal rights and equal votes for all.

The FLN's eight-man directorate issued a communique declaring De Gaulle's pronouncements remain in line with old French colonial policies.

Responsibility De Gaulle now "must bear complete responsibility for the continuation of the Algerian war and its eventual extension to all North Africa," the communique said.

In neighboring Tunisia rebel spokesmen said the fight against more than 400,000 French troops in Algeria would go on. The rebels have said only outright independence would persuade them to lay down their arms.

De Gaulle came to Algeria from Paris to talk first-hand with the leaders of the French revolutionary junta whose defiance of Paris unsettled Premier Pierre Pflimlin and paved the way for De Gaulle's return to power.

De Gaulle told crowds in Bone a popular referendum in three months will be "a great national conference when France will decide on its destiny. I hope all of you will take part in it."

"If members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee can't believe our own State Department," Aiken said, "how can we expect other countries to believe it?"

Storm Listed For State

HARRISBURG (AP)—The U. S. Weather Bureau last night issued this special weather bulletin:

A line of thunderstorms is present over western Pennsylvania and these storms are moving eastward about 20 miles per hour. The storms with severe activity at a few local points are expected to reach the area around a line from Harrisburg to Scranton by about 10 p.m. and continue eastward across the state. As the line of thunderstorms passes winds will become gusty reaching velocities around 40 miles per hour for short periods.

A later report said the storm front was not expected to reach Harrisburg until midnight.

The weather bureau in Pittsburgh said thunderstorms occurred in Philipsburg, Brookville, Bradford and Pittsburgh.

The Weather

Poconos — Fair with a cool northerly breeze today, highest temperature 55-62. Clear and cold tonight with scattered frost likely in most valleys lowest temperature 32-35.

Firm Repairs Pins For Bowling

ANOTHER name has been added to Monroe County's growing list of new industries.

It is Eastern Debkote Inc., one of only three plants of its kind in the entire United States. The firm specializes in reconditioning of battered bowling pins.

Owned by three Iowa men, two of whom are practicing dentists, the company has purchased the former Fredericks Dry Cleaning plant at 725 Ann St., Stroudsburg, from Robert Melick, now of Delaware Water Gap.

Some machinery has already been moved into the building and some of it set up ready for production. Additional machines have been shipped and still others are in the process of manufacture.

Announcement of the plant's establishment here was made yesterday in a joint statement by Dr. Fred H. Glade, of Davenport, Ia., vice president of the company, and M. F. Crowe, president of Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce, whose industrial committee helped the firm find a home here.

Although small in size (it will employ only 15 men at the plant and about 10 salesmen on the road), the company nevertheless will carry the name "Stroudsburg, Pa." far and wide.

Wide Territory For the local plant will serve a wide territory extending along the Eastern Seaboard from Maine to North Carolina and west as far as Ohio.

The Stroudsburg plant will operate separately from the parent company, Debs Kote, of Audubon, Ia. It has been granted the Eastern franchise by Delbert King, founder of the original plant. Six months ago, a similar franchise was granted for the West Coast to a company in Van Nuys, Calif.

Dr. Michael J. Hall, of Carroll, Ia., is president of Eastern Debkote and Russell Wunschel, also of Carroll, is secretary-treasurer.

R. C. Drescher, of Blairtown, N. J., is sales manager and Wayne Schlorholtz, of Carroll, is plant manager.

Actual production is expected to start in the 30-by-60 foot building next Tuesday and increase in tempo as the new machinery arrives. Dr. Glade said yesterday. Ten pins, duck pins and candle pins all will be renovated.

More than 1,200 sets of pins can be handled monthly by a plant of this size, the vice president said.

When the beat-up pins arrive here, the previous coating will be removed by lathes and sand-blasting. If the plastic ring base, on which the pin stands, is cracked or damaged, a new ring is inserted.

The pin is then refinished with a plastic coating. With three layers—basic, main and lacquer—the Debkote finish is still only 30-thousandths of an inch thick.

Dr. Glade says he expects a large number of orders to flow into the local plant because the Debkote method reduces bowling alley pin costs by about 75 to 80 per cent. Up to 400 per cent more usage can be expected from pins with the plastic coating, the part owner explained.

Barrett High Announces Names Of Honor Students

CRESKO—George W. Webb Jr., supervising principal of Barrett Township schools, yesterday announced the names of the two high honor students of the senior class.

John Eric Arnold will serve as valedictorian and Donald John Brenn as salutatorian at commencement exercises for the class next Tuesday at 8:15 p. m. in Buck Hill Auditorium.

Arnold has been a member of the school band, chorus, varsity basketball team, projectionist club, health and safety club, yearbook staff, student council, Allied Youth, Bah staff and president of his class.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Clayton Coffman, Swiftwater, and a member of the Paradise Assembly of God Church and choir. He will matriculate at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, N. Y.

Yearbook
Brenn was a member of the chorus, health and safety club, yearbook staff and served as basketball manager. He was selected by Congressman Francis E. Walter last year to serve as a page in the House of Representatives.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Brenn, of Cresco RD 1, he is a member of the Swiftwater Methodist Church and choir. Brenn expects to enroll at Central States College in Eaton, Ohio.

Dean Resigns At Lafayette

EASTON—Frank R. Hunt, dean of students at Lafayette College since 1946, Wednesday announced his resignation.

Dean Hunt said he took the action to give the college's new president, Dr. K. Roald Bergethon, a free hand when he takes over July 1.

Stroudsburg Man Dies At Home

WILLIAM F. Purzman, 76, of 1508 N. Fifth St., Stroudsburg, died at his home at 10 a. m. yesterday.

A native of Hickory Run, he was the son of the late Ira and Sarah Getz Purzman, and had lived most of his life in this area. He was a retired salesman and last worked for the Heckman Motor Co. prior to his retirement in 1946.

He was a lay preacher for 50 years and had taught Sunday School classes at Stroudsburg Methodist Church for the same number of years.

Survivors
Surviving are his wife, Mrs. L. Maude Purzman; three daughters, Mrs. Vernon Fream, Huntington, Long Island, N. Y.; Mrs. Spencer Cramer, Shawnee-on-Delaware, and Mrs. Ernest Treible, East Stroudsburg; two sisters, Miss Alta Purzman and Mrs. Russell Perrege, both of Arlington, Va., 12 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 2 p. m. Monday in the William R. Thomas Funeral Home, Rev. David Powell, Jr., will officiate and burial will be in Laurelwood Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 p. m. Sunday.

Odd Fellows Plan Program

ODD FELLOWS will hold their annual homecoming Sunday, June 15 at the IOOF Orphanage at Sunbury.

A program is to be presented by children of the orphanage at 2:45 p. m., to which the public is invited to attend and to visit the orphanage.

91 Students Graduate At East Stroudsburg High Service

Top Students Speak At Junior High

By Leonard Randolph

ADDRESSES by the valedictorian and salutatorian highlighted commencement exercises for 91 East Stroudsburg Area Joint High School seniors last night. The program was held at East Stroudsburg Junior High School.

In her valedictory, Dorothy Elizabeth May told the audience that there is no conflict between science and religion and that the two fields are related by "both means and ends" in human endeavor.

Salutatorian Ellen Mazer stressed the importance of the individual and his influence on the groups to which he belongs.

Miss May addressed herself to allegations that scientists traditionally do not believe in the existence of God. "Contrary to popular belief, scientists are among the most religious people in the world," she said. "More than any others, scientists come closest in life to experiencing the freedom which all men seek. This freedom allows research to be done into the unknown. It is the interpretation of the results of this research which give root to the common misunderstandings."

"Electrons cannot be seen through or captured by any scientific equipment. Yet, scientists accept their presence because they see the result of electronic action. God is likewise invisible and non-material; we can see only the results of his action," she went on.

"Therefore, as the scientist accepts the presence of electrons, so does he accept the presence of a greater Being," she said. "Then Miss May went on to say:

Better Position

"Is not the scientist in a better position to believe? Has not he already approached God by acknowledging the presence of the abstract?"

"The notion of conflicts between religion and science arises when the wrong question is put to either field. Science explains 'how'; religion tells 'why.' The Bible is not a treatise to explain progress from one-celled life to complex man. This is a problem of science."

"Rather, the Bible tells us that God is the reason for all life. It is only by His goodness that life has been guided to higher forms."

"When Darwin first gave his accounts of evolution, the religious world condemned it. Today, however, a person may accept this idea without conflict with his religious beliefs. If, in the beginning, the 'how' questions had been asked of science and the 'why' questions of religion, a great deal of dispute could have been avoided."

Moving toward the conclusion of her address, Miss May said: "Since religion and science are not in conflict, how can they help each other? The answers to this are numerous."

"There are many characteristics which are common to both religion and science. Sincerity, dedication, humility, factual pursuit and faith are only a few of these."

"It is up to religion to see that this brotherhood is achieved. Both religion and science open new areas of men's minds. These areas can raise our standard of living or totally destroy us. Religion must lead the way in deciding which it shall be. In the quest for science, we must always remember that it is only one part of our service to our Maker."

"And so we see that religion and science are related as both means and ends. Religion views Man's end; but science tells how to achieve it. This separation does not divide Man into two parts. Instead, it unites two aspects of Man's experience."

"We must remember that the laboratory is a temple and the temple is a laboratory. The two must continue to work together."

Miss Mazer began by noting that "we Americans . . . too often take our rights for granted." She then went on to say: "A civilization is the sum total of all its people. The individual member of this civilization is important first as an individual citizen and second as an influence on the groups to which he belongs."

"Conforming, rather than being an individual is characteristic of today's social pattern, especially for our age groups. Too frequently we prefer to accept the values of the groups to which we belong instead of doing some original thinking and

Chamber Of Commerce To Feature Entry In Pageant

MARILYN PETTINATO, 3 Fairview St., East Stroudsburg, will represent the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce and Vacation Bureau in the contest to choose "Miss Pocono Mountains" Saturday.

The local contest, coordinated by Mrs. Robert Miller, will feature the beauty and talents of a large number of young girls in this area.

Preliminary competition, in swimsuits, will be held at High Point Inn Saturday afternoon. Contestants and judges will be guests at a luncheon prior to the contest at High Point. The bathing suit judging is scheduled for 3 p.m. at the High Point Inn pool.

Final eliminations in the local contest will be held at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College auditorium Saturday night, Mrs. Miller announced.

East Stroudsburg Graduate

Marilyn Pettinato is 21 years old. She is a 1955 graduate of East Stroudsburg Area Joint High School. She is now employed by Bell Telephone Co. in Stroudsburg.

Miss Pettinato is a dancer with a particular flair for dramatic interpretive dancing. She hopes to make dancing her career and is also interested in modeling.

She was born in New York City but has lived in the Pocono Mountains the past four years.

It was also announced last night that Miss Judith Whitehead, East Stroudsburg State Teachers College freshman, will be sponsored by the Stroudsburg Merchants Assn.

developing our own ideals. It is important that we do both, think for ourselves and think with groups . . .

"We must strive to maintain a balance in our own thinking between practical and idealistic, functional and aesthetic. This balance of ideas is what makes the difference between the thinking individual in a democracy and a mere puppet in a dictatorship. Being a balanced individual is a requisite and responsibility of every American citizen."

Joan Lorraine Marsh, president of the graduating class, addressed the audience briefly. Prizes were awarded by Carl T. Seor, supervising principal of East Stroudsburg Area Joint Schools.

Invocation and benediction were offered by the Rev. Frank W. Wingerter. The senior band provided music for the occasion.

C. Elwood Huffman, a member of the Area Joint School Board, presented diplomas to the graduates.

Awards Made To High Rating Group

Dorothy May Wins Eight Awards

DOROTHY MAY is not only the brightest student in her graduating East Stroudsburg Area High School class, she has also succeeded in bridging the enormous chasm between the Daughters of the American Revolution and the United Nations.

Last night at the school's annual commencement exercise, Miss May won eight individual awards.

The DAR certificate and medal for good citizenship.

A certificate for "distinctive" participation in the 32nd high school contests conducted by the American Association for the United Nations.

At its most recent national meeting the Daughters of the American Revolution came out solidly against the United Nations.

CHARTER PRESENTATION to Boy Scout Troop 83, sponsored by St. Matthew's Roman Catholic Church, was made last night. George Rung, neighborhood commissioner for the local Boy Scouts of America presented the charter to Andy LaBar, chairman of the troop committee. Not present for photo was Gene Porter, Scoutmaster.

Water Gap Chamber To Sponsor Races On River

DELAWARE WATER GAP—Members of the Delaware Water Gap Chamber of Commerce voted Wednesday night to sponsor boat races Aug. 2 and 3 on the Delaware River.

The races will be run under official sanction of the American Power Boat Assn., according to John M. Pipher, an officer of the association.

Center of activity will be Kittingh Beach whose owner, Ernest Oschewsky, is cooperating in the venture.

Parking Concession

The parking concession on the Pennsylvania side will be offered to the Delaware Water Gap Fire Co. as a means of raising money, the chamber reported.

The membership voted to affiliate with the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and to continue fighting for a modern interchange at the intersection of Routes 611 and 402 when the Stroudsburgs Thruway is built.

Susan May Shafer and Barbara Ann LaBar will deliver the valedictory and salutatory for the program. The class oration will be given by Richard R. Rieger, president.

Earl F. Groner, superintendent, will announce prizes awarded to students. Graduates will be introduced by Alfred W. Munson, school principal.

It's Not Funny

Just how low will pranksters stoop to satisfy their appetite for "fun"?

Some will go to almost any depths, regardless of the damage they may cause or the inconvenience and embarrassment they may bring about.

Take, for instance, the person (or persons) who cut the rope on the flagpole at the Stroudsburg Little League Field on three different occasions since the season opened less than two weeks ago.

What possesses an individual to pull such a dastardly trick not once, but three times is more than we can imagine. It must take a warped, perverted mind to get a thrill out of such vandalism.

Perhaps the guilty party considered it a "practical joke", whatever that means. Replacing the halyards costs money and takes time, including that of firemen who must raise their aerial ladder to the top of the pole to replace the damaged rope. So it's no joke for those who must do the work.

Cutting the rope might have been done for spite, although it's difficult to conceive what vengeance anyone wants to wreak on a sport which brings clean, invigorating activity for so many boys not yet in their teens.

We can think of few things more representative of America than baseball. That includes every group from Little League to the Majors.

So let's keep the American Flag flying over all ball parks without interference from vandals.

There's Danger On Highways

Now that schools are leaving out for the Summer, motorists and youngsters alike should be cautioned once again to be extra careful on the public highways.

Vacation time presents greater opportunities for traffic accidents than any other period of the year. This is due to the fact that more cars and trucks are on the move because of the good weather.

Equally important, however, children have more free time on their hands and are apt to be found playing on or near streets and highways.

Bicycles offer one of the greatest risks for traffic accidents involving youngsters. Last year, bicycle accidents accounted for 480 deaths and 30,000 injuries in the United States.

Bicycle riders create hazards of which motorists must be constantly aware. But it cannot reasonably be expected that motorists assume full responsibility for the safety of cyclists. The youngsters have an obligation, too.

Bicycle riders should learn and observe all rules of the highway, operate their bikes carefully and avoid those show-off stunts which so often contribute to accidents. Beginners should learn to ride in a safe place, away from traffic, and use bicycles of the right size for them.

A child on a bicycle is unpredictable, but let us have as much life-saving harmony between motorist and cyclist as is humanly possible.

The Pennsylvania Story

What Will Choice Be?

By Mason Denison

Harrisburg — Pennsylvania's governors and their accompanying administrations of the past 20 years have run the gamut as to type of administration from

"patient" to "impetuous" — with the present Leader Administration undoubtedly now well shod with the latter appellation.

For Pennsylvania's five million voters who a half-dozen months from now will make the decision as to who will be their next governor, a flashback over the past two decades of the administrations that have occupied Capitol Hill is not only interesting but perhaps indicative of the future.

The "patient administration" is perhaps the best descriptive term that can be applied to the administration of Gov. Arthur H. James, who served as Pennsylvania's chief executive from 1939 to 1943.

Offices frisky, temperamental Gov. James, a lawyer by profession who in his early years worked in the coal mines as a breaker boy, ran a cautious administration. On the whole there was little of an impetuous nature about the James Administration. It was a patient administration, almost devoid of any warlike approach.

The following administration, that of Governor Edward Martin (circa 1943-47) was what certainly can be termed a "quiescent" administration. This marked an era on the Pennsylvania scene of gentle administration — with no offense if possible to anyone. Flare-ups were avoided like the plague. The order of the day was serenity at all costs. Delightful gubernatorial press conferences, gentle and easygoing, were for the most part "off the record" affairs. It was an administration of official dignity.

The calm and comparative quiet of preceding administrations were shattered with the inauguration in 1947 of Gov. James H. Duff, whose administration became known as the "bombastic" administration until he left office for the U. S. Senate in 1951.

Bristle-thatched Governor Duff was noted for his bluntness, brevity and strident decision — almost regardless of possible consequences. Legislative hot-tiffs, intra- and inter-party flareups marked the Duff four-year tenure. It was bombastic.

The outburst of the Duff Administration was matched in the following four years by almost the complete opposite during the ensuing confused 1951-55 administration of Governor John G. Fine.

Among old pals around Capitol Hill the Fine Administration is known for the most part as the "quivering" administration — one of indecision, contradiction and unquestionably confusion. Seemingly it was a hole in the ground operation, ostentatious.

Example: In his four years in office Gov. Fine permitted less than a dozen regularly scheduled press conferences — a marked shying away from public appearances.

The administration of Gov. George M. Leader now in his dying days most certainly has been an "impetuous" administration almost from the start. It has been so impetuous in fact that all too often it has been a question of flaunting legislative mandates or well established procedure in a burning zeal to reach an objective or goal.

Running spats have been commonplace, not only with the legislative branch, but within administration party circles as well. (The Leader Administration like the Duff Administration of the late 1940's has been bombastic.)

What the next administration will produce when Pennsylvania voters make their choice in November will be interesting to see in relation to the background of the five preceding administrations.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Powell Symptom

The Negro leaders of the Republican Party, at least one of whom may be responsible for Adam Clayton Powell's income tax troubles, spent most of a day at the New York County Committee headquarters in the National Club arguing with Thomas J. Curran, chairman, and Mrs. Preston Davis, vice chairman, about nominating a Democrat, who has a long record of letting wing associations, as the Republican candidate for Congress in Harlem.

No one made a speech favorable to Powell. No one spoke well or even kindly of him. In fact, the Negro leaders denounced him, spoke unfavorably of his character, etc., etc. Then they demanded he be nominated.

It was not that they had been corrupted. It was that they were afraid not to nominate him. They were afraid that they literally would not be able to walk the streets of Harlem if they failed to nominate him. The Democrats, to whom he belongs, threw him over; the Republicans, to whom he never belonged, dared not avoid him.

One Negro Republican leader blamed President Eisenhower for all the troubles. He said that when the Negroes of Harlem thought that Powell had ruined himself, a deal was made for Powell to come out for Eisenhower in the 1956 election and Powell was given an opportunity to exhibit his strength in his income tax case.

Fourteen months went by before the United States Attorney in New York did anything in the matter and then only after the Grand Jury threatened to go off on its own. This is something the Senate Judiciary Committee might look into one day.

In the broadest American sense, the Powell case is symptomatic of a frightening situation. Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., is first of all a Negro. He has made being a Negro a career and a profession. He is a clergyman and a member of Congress, but most of all, he is a demagogue who keeps them stirred up and as long as they are stirred up, he will possess enormous power in New York City. He is a man of superb intelligence who, however, has his own game to play.

The Negro and Puerto Rican population in New York County can control the election. Such a situation is also developing in Brooklyn and the Bronx.

The Puerto Ricans dislike being classed as Negroes which many of them are not, but they are discriminated against socially and economically in this community and they are being forced by circumstances to associate themselves with such leadership as Powell's. They have produced no equal leadership of their own.

New York City is normally Democratic. Its leadership has moved from Irish to Italian. The Republican Party is moribund and lacks leadership altogether; it exists only on patronage, receiverships and similar perquisites that are exclusively advantageous to lawyers. Most of the kind of people usually Republican in Northern cities, live and vote in the suburbs, some even in other states like Connecticut and New Jersey where the tax situations are preferable.

I have long estimated that the next Mayor of New York might be a Negro. It lies in the votes and in the balance of power.

Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., has established it as a political fact that he is above party; that if his own party rejects him, he can take over another.

He has established it beyond cavil, that he has taken over the Republican Party in New York County because what occurred at the meeting of the Advisory Committee which opposed him unanimously in public was that those who are most ambitious wanted to endorse him, and were caught in a political device and were forced to vote as they did.

They protested, however. The reason they were ready to support Powell was that they thought that Powell might support one of their own as the candidate for Governor. This argument only proved the development of Powell's power.

The methods employed by Powell are new here. They are organized mass pressures on racial issues. In a word, if Powell is indicted in an income tax case, the entire Negro race is indicted; if Powell is rejected for a nomination, the entire Negro race is rejected.

Powell, with diabolical brilliance, has so associated himself with the Negroes that he has become the symbol of race consciousness. This is something very new and frightfully dangerous in American life.

DEAR MR. EDITOR:

Favors Sane A-Policy

Bangor, Pa.

Dear Editor:

The recent services in Arlington Cemetery for the Unknown Soldiers have raised again countless prayers and hopes that this senseless drift toward another world war which would claim untold millions next time might be stopped while there is still a possibility of doing so. All around the world today voices are calling for a halt and a sane appraisal of this mad race which is so intimately involved in the manufacture and testing of nuclear weapons. Why is there not more expression of concern among us when so many thoughtful and informed leaders continue to sound the warnings?

Pope Pius XII in a message made public April 12, 1957 appealed to mankind to stop its "exhausting and costly" race toward atomic death.

The World Council of Churches in a statement issued August 5, 1957 urged consideration: "To stop, by international agreement, the testing of nuclear weapons, and to bring to a halt the production of nuclear weapons under such controls as will most fully ensure compliance."

Albert Schweitzer: "It would be of immense importance if America in this hour of destiny could decide in favor of renouncing atomic weapons, to remove the possibility of an eventual outbreak of an atomic war. The theory of peace through terrifying an opponent by a greater armament."

Similar pronouncements from various religious, civic and scientific bodies have been multiplying during the past months. One valuable source of intelligent and objective information on these important issues has recently come into existence through the untiring efforts of Norman Cousins, editor of The Saturday Review of Literature.

It is the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy, 202 East 44th St., New York 17, N. Y. Should there not be much more public expression of opinion and sharing of reliable facts on these matters in our daily press?

Try and Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

The minister had come for Sunday dinner and 6-year-old Susan Mae was dressed up in her very best for the occasion. All went well until the minister asked Susan Mae what she wanted to be when she grew up. "A dog," she announced. Susan Mae's mother yanked her out of the room, gave her a piece of what-for, and marched her back to the minister's side. "Susan Mae is ready to give you a sensible answer now," she reported.

"That's splendid," said the minister. "What is it you really want to be when you grow up?" he coaxed.

Susan Mae glared at her mother and declared, "A pony."

According to this diplomatic information, Ambassador Sergei Vinogradov is intimating to De Gaulle lieutenants that the Soviet is prepared to help him out in France's pressing financial problems.

Such a Red loan would be a spectacular development.

Last winter, the U. S. and Britain extended an emergency $625,000,000 credit to Premier Gaillard. Virtually all of that money has been spent, chiefly for the costly fighting in Algeria and pay increases in France. As a result, De Gaulle's new regime faces a serious crisis and must seek another big emergency loan.

Apparently the Kremlin is proposing to offer the West some unprecedented competition on that.

No Brush-Fires — The Joint Chiefs of Staff are flatly against limiting U. S. nuclear weapons to the NATO allies to a maximum of 20 kilotons (20,000 tons of TNT) of destructive power.

The military leaders take this position on the ground that "limited warfare in Western Europe is impractical and undesirable." They voiced this far-reaching viewpoint in a memorandum to the Joint Congressional Atomic Committee.

It sought the Joint Chiefs' reaction on the limitation proposal advanced by former Atomic Commissioner Thomas Murray. He is now the Joint Committee's chief consultant, and is strongly urging that a provision be written into President Eisenhower's nuclear exchange bill restricting such weapons to 20 kilotons.

This legislation is nearing completion by the Committee, and is slated to be reported to the House and Senate later this month.

The Committee is closely divided on Murray's amendment. What effect the Joint Chiefs' forceful rejection of it will have is conjectural. Also importantly affecting this issue is General De Gaulle's ascendancy in France.

Committee leaders are privately voicing misgivings about giving nuclear weapons to the De Gaulle regime.

Note: The Joint Chiefs are emphatically opposed to ending nuclear tests—for at least three more years. They have informed President Eisenhower of this view. The military leaders contend more time is essential to complete the development and testing of certain tactical nuclear weapons and missile warheads.

Two Deer In Town

AT LEAST two deer invaded Stroudsburg's business district early yesterday.

Police Chief James McConnell said he had reports of the animals being seen on Sixth, Ana and Main Sts.

Leave Quietly

McConnell said the animals apparently were chased into town by dogs. They left as quietly as they arrived, without a police escort.

There were no reports of damages.

Adventists To Collect Offering

MEMBERS of the Stroudsburg Seventh-day Adventist Church will boost their church's mission funds by a million dollars in a single day—tomorrow.

According to Elder W. R. Bornstein, the special offering will be taken in Adventist churches throughout the world. The project is in answer to an appeal of church leaders, "to meet the rising demand by the peoples of many lands for more Christian teachers, preachers, and physicians."

Offering Report

Pastor Bornstein explained that the offering from the local church, will be reported on June 21 at the 48th World Conference of the Church in Cleveland, O., where other funds will be added from delegates and visitors. The total is expected to exceed the one million goal.

Bornstein said a message from the world president of Adventists, R. R. Fichter, Washington, D. C., has been received by the Stroudsburg church stating, "World conditions speak in no uncertain tones, telling us that we must hasten with our Christian task, for time is running out. The program of proclaiming the Christian gospel must be enlarged."

The Pastor said, "All our local members are earnestly and sacrificially working for the success of the project."

Two Cars In Borough Accident

NO ONE was injured in a two-car accident at the Main St. approach to the inter-borough bridge about 5:45 p. m. yesterday.

Stroudsburg police identified the drivers as Ruth Ann Sayre, 206 Washington St., East Stroudsburg, and Joseph Walker, Callowhill St., Philadelphia.

Officers said Miss Sayre, operating on a learner's permit, failed to negotiate the curve leading to the bridge and struck Walker's car.

The vehicle driven by Miss Sayre was owned by George Custard, Largo, Fla., a passenger in the car. Damage was estimated at $200 to his car and $250 to Walker's vehicle.

Price Reduction Featured On Power Tools

PRICE CUTS ranging up to 33 per cent will become effective today on all types of portable electric hand tools offered by Sears, Roebuck and Co., Jess Pierson, local Sears store manager, announced.

Famous Craftsman power tools included in the impressive list of items which have been reduced are drills, sabre saws, sanders, portable electric hand saws and routers.

Pierson said that Sears, working closely with its power tool manufacturers, has been able to effect economies in all phases of production and distribution to lower the prices on these items.

He pointed out that the local store is in good supply on all the items affected by the price cuts and he expects residents of the area to welcome the money-saving news.

With the do-it-yourself trend still on the rise, it is anticipated that many will take advantage of these timely price reductions to outfit their home workshops with all the electric hand tools they have always wanted and needed for so many projects around the house.

All the Craftsman electric tools available at reduced prices are precision instruments, designed to make it easy for even the amateur home handyman to produce professional results with a minimum of experience or practice, Pierson pointed out.

SEARS, ROEBUCK AND CO. in 1957 invested a record-breaking $46,472,000 in newspaper advertising space, Jess Pierson, local Sears store manager, said yesterday.

This total marked the 12th consecutive year of record newspaper advertising expenditure for Sears and topped 1956's previous high of $45,479,000 by 2.2 percent, Pierson said.

Sears 1957 expenditure was spread among 993 daily and weekly newspapers located in every state and amounted to 277,231,200 lines of advertising.

Pierson stated that his company's newspaper dollar expenditure in 1957 represented 78.1 percent of Sears total local retail advertising expenditure. The total retail media expense of $59,510,000 was also a record high, exceeding the 1956 figure by 3 percent.

HOMER L. HELLER, president of Craig-Mar Construction, Inc., 34 N. Sixth St., Stroudsburg, has been appointed local dealer for EE-ZE-DO aluminum combination storm-screen windows and doors.

Affiliated with Mr. Heller, who has been active in the lumber and construction business here most of his adult life, are two local sales representatives: Robert R. Mosher, East Stroudsburg RD 2 and Deward R. Shook, 58 E. Brown St., East Stroudsburg.

EE-ZE-DO aluminum windows are manufactured by Allied Metals, Inc. of New London, Conn., and carry a 20-year guarantee.

Mr. Heller, whose firm will continue to engage in general contract work, said he chose the Allied line after a careful study of its superior features and the many advantages it offers the homeowner.

He pointed out a complete installation was done on the new home now being built for George Stout, owner of Stout Glass Works, N. Ninth St. Mr. Stout has expressed definite satisfaction with the windows and their operation. Mr. Heller pointed out.

School Honors Safety Patrol Membership

SAFETY patrol workers and their leaders at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College Laboratory School received pins, key chains and awards yesterday for their excellent performance of duty during the school year.

At a special program in the lab school, Marvin E. Burrus, sixth grade supervisor and adviser to the patrol and Miss Josephine Kern, fifth grade supervisor, presented the "awards".

Among patrol principals taking part: Elwood LeBar, traffic officer on the campus; Bill Reese, patrol captain; Thomas Seese and Terry Kemp, "Lieutenants" for the sixth and fifth grades, respectively.

Patrol members honored were:

Lynn Heller, Nancy Booth, Jack Hine, Lee Serfass, Billy Westbrook, Mike Boushell, Robyn Roth, Lorraine Beaver, Kathy Whitaker.

Art League Plans Exhibit

EASTON—The Community Art League's Exhibit Committee made final plans for the spring exhibit which will be held tomorrow and Sunday in the Circle in Easton.

As in the past, the exhibit will be held from 9 a. m. until dusk on both days. This is the League's ninth annual spring show which was organized to stimulate interest in painting, sculpture, and crafts in the community.

This year the league is inviting non-members to participate.

Non-members should register with Mrs. Marilyn Hertz, financial secretary, in the Circle Saturday morning. Exhibit space will be assigned at that time.

FLOOD PROJECT FOR WEISSPORT

HARRISBURG — The State Forests and Waters Department yesterday called for bids July 2 for construction of the proposed Weissport flood protection project in Carbon County.

The project, to cost an estimated $100,000, will consist of a half-mile levee around the southern section of Weissport on the Lehigh River.

Just Between Us — —

—By Bobby Westbrook

Off-hand I can't think of any county that does more for its children in the summertime than our own. Simultaneously with the closing of school, all sorts of opportunities start opening up.

The Daily Vacation Bible Schools offer a transition from school to summer schedule. The Girl Scouts have their Day Camp, their badge work, their hikes and excursions. The Boy Scouts have overnights, trips and camping.

The YMCA plans its day camp program, the 4-H Clubs offer sewing, cooking, or agricultural projects. Soon the playgrounds will be opening up, ready to teach swimming, handicrafts, games. The Little League ball games and practice sessions are already underway.

Our young children have opportunities for fun and learning that only children of families in the upper, upper brackets could afford in the city. For the most part, the cost in money is nominal if, anything.

However, the cost in effort is something else again. These activities are not something to release parents from the care of their children. It takes effort and interest to arrange the family schedule so it fits the child's program, to get them dressed and transported and fed on time.

It's much easier for parents to sleep late, adapt the schedule to their own interests, and simply chase the kids out of the house when they get too rascally.

Monday Set For Start Of Bible School

Daily Vacation Bible School for children of all ages of the Middle Smithfield area will begin on Monday morning, June 9, at 8:45 a.m. for two-hour daily sessions at the Middle Smithfield Presbyterian Church.

The Bible School is interdenominational and all children, beginners through intermediate are welcome.

The Dutch Reformed Church, Bushkill, is cooperating in the program, and bus transportation will be furnished. Further details may be obtained from Mrs. Mahlon Hallett or Rev. Wesley Crawthorn, pastor.

'Whole Truth' Is Usually Unnecessary And Unwise

The poet says, "Oh, what a tangled web we weave, when first we practice to deceive!" Of course, it's perfectly true that we can get into a great deal of trouble, in our careers as well as our lives by telling lies. However, it seems to me that we can get into almost as much trouble by telling too much of the truth. The truth and nothing but the truth is a fine thing, but think carefully before you follow through with the whole truth.

Reason for Leaving
For example, in giving his reason for leaving a company, a man I know said something like this:

"I left them after four and a half years because their internal policies and personnel thinking are hopelessly old-fashioned. In the past year, 14 new people have been hired and 12 of them have already left and been replaced by new ones. I envision no future for myself in such a company. Hence, my decision to leave."

I happen to know the company well, and every word this man speaks is perfectly true. However, most of those words are really unnecessary.

He need only say, "I am leaving because I want a broader horizon and more opportunity to advance."

Good Impression
That is perfectly true and that leaves you with a feeling that he is a good person. On the other hand, the long-drawn-out monologue, telling the "whole truth," leaves you with the feeling that the man is perhaps partly to blame himself; that he is telling tales out of school and, most of all, that he is attacking a company behind its back when it is not in a position to defend any of its statements. In short, you get a feeling that you would just as soon not hire him.

As a matter of fact, that is exactly what he was encountering. He thought it was due to his inadequate education, his age and a good many other factors. But the moment he be-

Crown-Bearer Named For Miss Pocono Pageant

When Miss Pocono Mountains 1958 is crowned tomorrow night in the auditorium at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, bearing the laurel crown will be Miss Debbie Warner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Warner, Ninth St., Stroudsburg.

Debbie will wear a floor-length gown of pink tulle and tulle. She will carry the crown, made of the official state flower, the laurel, on a white satin pillow decorated with pastel ribbon streamers. She will present it to Miss Jeanne Poortstra, retiring queen, who will place it on the head of the new Miss Pocono Mountains.

The crowning will be the culmination of a pageant of beauty and talent in which the candidates will present talent performances. The local beauty pageant is a preliminary contest of the Miss America Contest.

Finale of the presentation will be a vocal solo by Robert Hartman who will sing the official song for the Miss America finals, with the words changed to suit the local setting: "Here She Is—Miss Pocono Mountains."

Tom Waring will serve as master of ceremonies for the pageant. Mrs. Robert Miller, assisted by Gilbert Dunning, is directing the pageant for the Exchange Club of East Stroudsburg.

Chaperones will be Mrs. Horace Westbrook, Mrs. John Ferree and Mrs. Madelyn Maloney.

gan to tell less than the whole truth — to tell only what was necessary — he got a job. The same thing is true when we are asked our opinion of a co-worker or another person, generally. Too often we tell the whole truth which, when told about any of us, can be devastating.

Resist the Temptation to "Tell All" About a Co-worker

Capacity for Job

If your superior asks you whether or not you think Susie could handle the job on the reception desk and adds, "Tell me what you think of her," you do not have to tell everything you think of her, good or bad. You are being asked to tell what you know about her capacity to handle the reception desk and that part of the request should be answered truthfully.

Resist the temptation to go on and on with everything you know about Susie.

I stress this point because it appears so often in my mail and because it is one of the subtler temptations. We can righteously, and almost virtuously, develop a really quite cruel and vicious streak by camouflaging our motives under the cool conviction that, after all, we are simply telling the truth.

Remember, the truth is a heady wine. Give people what they need of it, but don't go pouring it down their throats unnecessarily.

Tribute Paid To Dairy Industry

JUNE DAIRY Month, the annual period during which the nation pays tribute to cows and the dairy industry goes all out to tell the story of dairy foods, will take on a historical note this year.

The 351st anniversary of the founding of Jamestown colony, the first permanent English settlement in this country, also marks the founding of the American dairy industry.

From the consumer point of view, this growth of the dairy industry into a modern food giant has brought into the homes a big variety of foods which have become the favorites of all ages.

This family of foods, which provides about 30 per cent of the average person's food nutrients, includes milk, butter, cheese, ice cream, evaporated milk, nonfat dry milk and such items as favored milks, cottage cheese and cream of various kinds.

Dairy Month Grows

June Dairy Month has become one of the biggest annual food sales events in the United States. It has the support of just about everyone from the President of the United States to the smallest food store in the country.

Almost everyone joins in the June Dairy Month Campaign. In addition to the several million people employed directly in the dairy industry, there are the food stores, restaurants and all other food sales outlets.

Banks, machinery and equipment companies, all the people who sell supplies to the dairy industry, power companies and many others join in the June Dairy Month event.

Nutritionists, food editors of newspapers and many others whose professional interest lies solely in improving the American diet use their influence to support June Dairy Month.

The whole campaign is a highly concentrated effort to arouse the American people to the need for adequate consumption of milk and its products to maintain and to improve the nutritional intake of the average American.

Milk has long been known as nature's most nearly perfect food, and additional research evidence continues to strengthen this claim.

Serve Soda, Ice Cream

HOMEMADE ice cream sodas are just the thing to serve for party refreshments these spring days. They're sure pleasers.

Young folks will love the novelty of it, the grown up too. To make it even merrier, let each one make his own favorite soda—just have the "fixin's" ready.

Ice cream sodas are so easy to make at home—just a few simple steps to follow to obtain real professional results.

First you need tall glasses, straws, and long handled spoons to make it fun. Ingredients for the soda would include chilled sparkling water or carbonated beverages of your choice, a variety of flavors and fruits and, of course, plenty of ice cream in the freezer.

To make an ice cream soda as bubbly and frothy as the best, be sure that the soft drink used is well chilled and freshly opened. The small sized bottle of carbonated beverage is ideal for this reason.

Million Farms Produce Milk For America

DAIRYING is one of the biggest of all the American agricultural enterprises, and there are dairy farms in every state of the union. In addition to providing milk, the nation's dairy farms produce about one-third of the total beef and veal supply.

To keep the daily supply of milk moving from the farms through the processing factories to the doorsteps, food stores and restaurants requires the labor of several million people. The dairy industry uses more trucks than any other American industry, with thousands of these trucks required to haul the milk from farm to dairy plant and from plant to doorstep or other outlets.

As an industry, the production and processing of milk is relatively young, but in recent years it has grown into one of the major food industries and has provided a much greater variety of items for public consumption.

There are, for example, an estimated 800 different kinds of cheese, and ice cream flavors are almost unlimited. Milk itself is offered in many different forms, including different kinds of cream.

Industry Continues to Grow

Packaging these millions of pounds of dairy foods sold daily makes the dairy industry one of the major users of various kinds of packaging materials, including glass and paper of various kinds. Since most of the products also require refrigeration, from the farm to the home, a great part of the refrigeration business has been built up to serve the needs of dairy products.

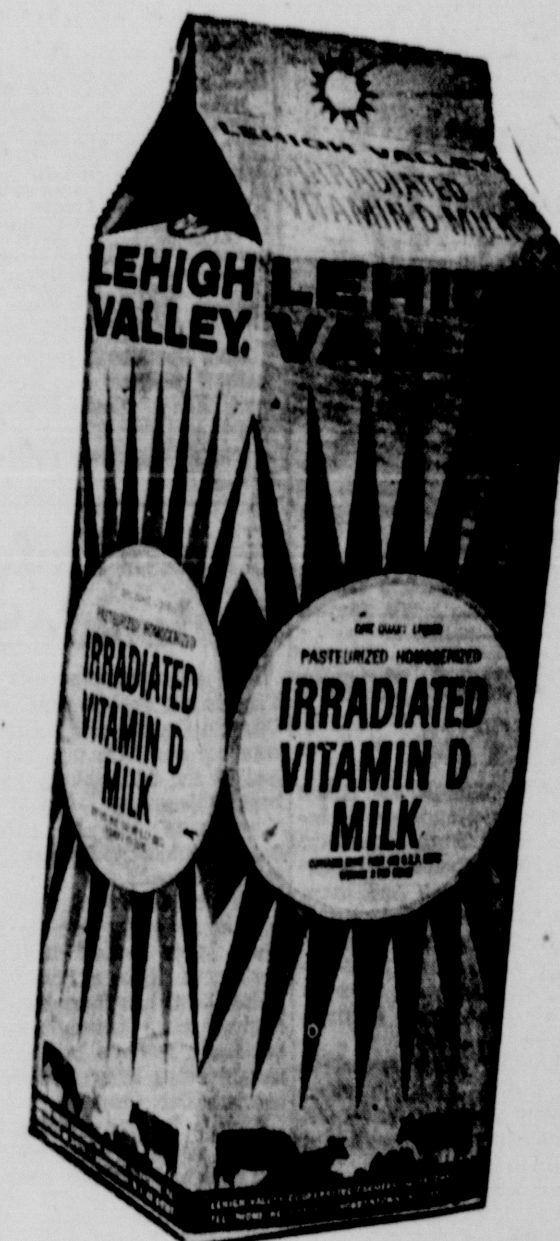

To maintain the world's highest sanitary standards for the production and processing of milk, the dairy industry has been responsible for the development of some rather large industries. Dairying is a huge customer for stainless steel which goes into milk storage tanks and into tank trucks that haul milk from farms to plants and from city to city. Most of these tanks are refrigerated to hold the temperature of the milk at low levels.

The modern dairy plant is a maze of stainless steel, refrigeration equipment, steel or glass pipeline, pumps and other industrial equipment. Automation is playing an important role in increasing dairy plant efficiency, but thus far no one has figured out how to automate the cow so that she will shut off her flow of milk for weekends and holidays.

Polk High Nine Downs Tobyhanna, 11-7

Take Loop Lead By Half Game

TORYHANNA — Polk Township High School's nine climbed into the first place notch in the Monroe County Scholastic League yesterday after hammering out an early lead to suppress the Tobyhanna Township tribe, 11-7.

The win puts Polk out in front by half a game. Close contenders Chestnut Hill and Tannersville, which have a game to go, hold 5-2 logs against Polk's 6-2 record.

A first inning surge of eight across the plate, plus two in the second and another in the third, carried Polk through the next four scoreless innings.

Tobyhanna fought back with three in the first and one each in the last four frames. Homering from Polk was Smith, and walking off the mound as victor was Kresge, who collected six strikeouts while giving up but three walks.

Nazareth Downed By Danielsville

DANIELSVILLE — Nazareth's nine fell under a fifth-inning, five-run drive of Danielsville last night in a Blue Mountain League contest here that gave the local squad an 8-5 win.

The duel, called in the bottom of the sixth because of darkness, left Danielsville with a 5-2 record.

The linescore:

Nazareth	000 302—5
Danielsville	101 15X—8

Martins Creek Wins Tilt

MARTINS CREEK — After trailing for two-and-a-half innings, the local Blue Mountain League tribe delivered a four-run blast to the Bath and later go out in front for a 6-4 win.

The third inning rally started off with a homer by winning pitcher Lutz with a man on. Three consecutive doubles rounded out the drive.

While holding Bath scoreless after its initial lead, Martins Creek pushed ahead in the fifth with a pair of runs to break the tie and clinch the contest.

Pony League Ball Starts This Week

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — Some 3,500 Pony League baseball teams swing into action across the U.S., Canada and Mexico this week for a chance to appear in the seventh annual world series here in August.

More than 20,000 boys, ages 13 and 14, will participate in the program. Eight teams will be brought to Washington August 25-26 to battle for the championship. Lufkin, Texas, won it last year.

Akins Draws 9-5 Choice In Bout With Martinez

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Virgil Akins banks on punching power to nullify Vince Martinez' boxing skill tonight in a 15-round match for the world welterweight title. Slugger Akins is the 9-5 favorite in his home town.

The championship of the 147-pound division has been un-manned for almost nine months since Carmen Basilio went hunting for bigger game.

Although the bout will be carried on network television and radio, starting at 9 p.m. (EST), St. Louis and a 150-mile surrounding area will be blacked out of the telecast.

Emory Jones, the local promoter, and the International Boxing Club expect about 9,000 people and a gross gate of $60,000 or more.

Basilio, currently "between fights" with Sugar Ray Robinson, is expected to be a witness. Carmen won and lost the middle-weight crown in two bouts with Robinson and still is waiting for Ray to make up his mind about No. 3.

Little League Contests

HLH Downed By Cramer LL Nine, 4-3

UNBEATEN Heller - Lloyd - Howell Little Leaguers were handed their first defeat in the East Stroudsburg loop last night as R. C. Cramer's shortstop Don Titus tagged a homer with two on in the fifth to claim the decision.

The 4-3 victory for the Cramer squad was their second win after a short-lived losing streak. HLH swung into high gear in the first to set a 2-0 lead. In the third they increased the pace by another run.

Then in the bottom of the third, Cramer nine collected their first run and swung out in front in the fifth with the homer.

Athletics Blank Senators, 2-0

WASHINGTON (AP) — A two-run home run by Woody Held provided the Kansas City Athletics and pitcher Ralph Terry with a 2-0 victory over Camilo Pascual and the Washington Senators in a tense 11th-inning duel last night.

For Held, a fifth-inning substitute for Mike Baxes, who left the game with a sprained right ankle, this was homer No. 3 for the season. The blow into the left field bullpen, following a single by Vic Power, rewarded Terry with his third victory of the season.

Left-handers Warren Spahn for Milwaukee and Johnny Antonelli for San Francisco started, but the Braves' hurler left in the seventh charged with four runs and Antonelli departed an inning later after putting the tying run on base.

The victory eventually went to left-hander Jim Conley, his first of the year. Conley was charged with his fourth defeat.

Purkey Hurls Reds Over Dodgers For 8-4 Victory

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gangling Bob Purkey stumbled both at the start and the finish but pitched magnificently in between and picked up his seventh victory yesterday as Cincinnati dropped Los Angeles 8-4 before a meager Coliseum crowd.

Low A Dodger past second base out. After that, he didn't allow a run in the first two innings.

The 6-foot-2 right-hander was nailed for two runs in the first inning and another in the second Gil Hodges hit his eighth homer of the year with the bases empty in the ninth.

Purkey also hit a homer with no one on in the second. It was the second of his major league career.

The Redlegs scored a run in each of the first three innings and took charge for good with a three-run rally in the fourth which disposed of Dodger starter Carl Erskine.

The crowd of 8,440 was the second smallest of the season. Cincinnati 111 300 110—8 13 1
Los An. 210 000 001—4 8 1

Purkey and Bailey; Erskine, Bessent (4), Kipp (4), Roebuck (8) and Roseboro. W—Purkey. L—Erskine.

Home runs—Cincinnati, Purkey (1), Hoak (3), Los Angeles, Hodges (8).

Two judges and a referee will work and they will use the "must 5" scoring system. The winner of a round gets five points, the loser four, three and so on. Total points determine the winner on each card.

Akins, 30, is no gem of consistency. It has been said of him "one night a tiger, another, a lamb."

Akins' career record for 65 fights is 47-17-1, as compared to Martinez' 60-5 for the same number of scraps. Akins has been stopped twice, Martinez, 29, never failed to last the distance.

Akins has been able to rise to the occasion when necessary. In his last fight, March 21, he was trailing on all official cards until he suddenly caught up with Isaac Logart, a fancy boxer.

People who fancy the underdog from Paterson, N. J., have some reservations about his tendency to be overcautious. A fine standup boxer with a classic left jab and a solid right, handsome Vince has created the impression that he doesn't like to mix.

Farrell, Lopata Carry Phils Over Cubs, 7-6

CHICAGO (AP) — Right-hander Dick Farrell's relief work and Stan Lopata's two-run homer yesterday carried the Philadelphia Phillies to a 7-6 decision over the Chicago Cubs.

Farrell's blazing fast ball struck out five Cubs in the last three innings.

The victory went to Ray Semproch, second Philadelphia pitcher who was lifted for a pinch hitter when the Phillies unloaded a five-run seventh inning to offset a previous Chicago six-run outburst.

Lopata's 380-foot homer was hit off Don Elston, third Cub pitcher. It followed Harry Anderson's base-clearing double.

In the Phil's seventh, pinch-hitter Dave Philley walked and Richie Ashburn followed with a single, chasing Cub starter Glenn Hobbie. Reliever Dick Mayer walked Solly Hemus. Then Anderson's double cleared the bases.

Don Elston came in, but after retiring Repulski, threw the home run ball to Lopata.

Tannersville Victor Over Tobyhanna

TANNERSVILLE — Local Little Leaguers trotted the Tobyhanna nine 30-7 with a heavy run bombardment in almost every frame of a Pocono League contest here last night.

Moving out in front in the first inning by a nine-run margin, the victors continued their advance with eight in the second and six in the third. After collecting five in the fourth, the pace slowed to a single run in the fifth.

The only homer recorded in the duel was tagged by Tannersville third-baseman Bonser with none on.

Yanks Split Twin Card With Chisox

NEW YORK (AP) — Sherm Lollar knocked in all of Chicago's runs with a homer and a single as the White Sox salvaged a 3-2 nightcap victory yesterday after the American League leading New York Yankees had taken the first game of a doubleheader 12-5.

Lollar rapped a two-run homer off starter-loser Bobby Shantz in the first inning of the second game, then made it 3-0 with an RI single off Sal Maglie in the ninth before Ray Moore lost his four-hit shutout. The Yankees got their runs on singles by Andy Carey and Bill Skowron, an error and a force out before Moore got Harry Simpson to hit into a force out that ended it.

Louis Aparicio beat out an infield hit in the clinching ninth for the Sox, and then stole second. An infield out sent him to third and Lollar brought him home with his second hit in eight trips for the day.

Reliever Dyne Duren came in for 2-2-3 scoreless innings after starter-winner Don Larsen was unable to protect a 10-3 lead in the opener.

Larsen, who drove in four runs with two singles and a sacrifice fly, weakened in the seventh and left after serving a two-run pinch homer to Earl Torgeson, a single to Jim Landis and a double to Fox.

Duren walked Billy Goodman to load the bases before getting Lollar on a short fly and Jim Rivera on strikes.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Ray Boone's grand slam home run in the seventh inning backed up Hank Aguirre's brilliant pitching last night for a 6-3 Detroit victory over Baltimore.

Aguirre took over in the first inning after the Orioles had scored their only three runs off Paul Foytack. The tall left-hander got Jim Busby to fly out to end the inning and allowed only two hits after that for his second victory against one defeat.

Seek Completion By July 4

Glen Brook Country Club Starts Construction Of Swimming Pool

A DREAM is coming true. For many years the past officers of the Glen Brook Country Club have weighed the importance of a swimming pool. But not until the present re-election of officials, under the direction of President Bob Schell, was this so-called "dream" made a reality.

The above words sum up Glen Brook's official enthusiastic statement about their new pool.

"Now we believe we have in the making just what was needed to make Glen Brook the Country Club our community has wanted and envisioned for many years."

Construction of the new swimming pool has moved along rapidly since the ground was broken for the project last Saturday.

July 4 Deadline

Every effort is being made to have the pool open for the membership July 4. However, bad weather could play a part in a slight delay. But officials feel that the July 4 deadline will be reached.

Under the direction of chairman Robert Paine, the pool committee has been working hard and hand with the Sylvan Pool Company, nationally-known builders of pools.

Others on the Glen Brook committee are Trudy Hellman, Clem Abelloff, and Bill Doall. The actual makeup and its prospective surroundings are:

1. A 30 by 60 foot kidney-shaped pool which will be 25-feet in diameter at the deep point and 35-feet at the shallow point. Maximum depth at the deepest point will be nine feet, while the minimum depth will be three feet.

2. Also included will be a complete filtering system, a one-meter diving board and four underwater lights.

3. A wading pool for youngsters will be adjacent to the large pool and will be 16 feet in diameter and be from 12 to 18 inches in depth.

4. A bath house, 12-feet wide and 65-feet in length will be constructed at the upper end of the pool toward Number One tee. It will consist of toilets, shower rooms and a central room which will be used as a snack bar.

5. Completely surrounding the pool and in front of the bath house will be a walking and sitting area which will have beach chairs and umbrellas.

The entire pool overlooks the complete 10th and 18th holes and is located just a short distance from the main building of the country club.

Harmony Theme

Harmony has been the theme of the entire project as constant help in the planning comes daily from Clifford Heller, club president Schell, and Henrietta Baldwin, president of the women's organization which is associated with the country club.

Since plans were first initiated for the pool, and with the construction under way, membership at Glen Brook has soared to new heights. The club officers are looking forward to an even greater membership when the pool is completed on or around July 4.

Tigers Add First Negro To Roster

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers added their first Negro player yesterday — the 15th major league team to do so since Jackie Robinson joined the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1947.

He is Ossie Virgil, 25, a native of the Dominican Republic. Virgil is a third baseman and has spent this season with Charleston, W. Va., in the American Assn.

Last year Virgil was with the New York Giants. He was peddled to the Tigers in January along with Hal Harris for Jim Finigan and cash.

At that time the Tigers said he was obtained for Charleston, not for the parent club.

Thursday, with the Tigers in last place in the American League, Virgil was promoted. The move leaves only the Boston Red Sox with a history of no Negro players.

Coming with Virgil to the Tigers Friday will be Herb Moford, 29, a right-handed pitcher who has a spectacular .098 earned run average and a 6-0 mark which includes three starts and two shut-outs.

To make room, the Tigers farmed out utility man Lou Skizas and pitcher Bob Shaw.

Virgil has driven in 4 runs in 50 games and was hitting .292 in the association.

The Tigers said Virgil's color had nothing to do with being sent to Charleston in the first place, or being brought up now.

The club has been under some pressure from Negro groups in Detroit to add a Negro player.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 2. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Guida Named Bangor High Nine's Coach

BANGOR — Louis Guida was elected head baseball coach at Bangor Area Joint High School at a meeting of the three-district joint board Wednesday night.

Guida, whose salary was set at $175, will succeed John L. Williams, veteran coach whose resignation took effect after the season just closed.

New Assistant
Guida had served as assistant under Williams last season. The new assistant coach will be Edward Fishler, who was voted an $87.50 salary for next season.

The board also approved a blocker-charger machine for the football squad at a cost of $695.

Harness Driver Suspended

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Haughton, the nation's leading money winning harness racing driver for the past six years, was suspended five days yesterday by the stewards of Roosevelt Raceway for interfering with another driver in Tuesday night's ninth race. He is from Brookville, N. Y.

Frank Safford of Southern Pines, N. C., another nationally known driver, also was suspended five days. He was charged with interference in the fifth race.

The club has been under some pressure from Negro groups in Detroit to add a Negro player.

Holland Gains Semifinal Round In British Tourney

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—Tim Holland, lone American left in the British Amateur Golf Championship, won a tense quarter-final match Thursday, then charged the Scottish gallery was unfair to him.

The wealthy 27-year-old golfer from Rockville Centre, N. Y., defeated Douglas Alexander, a 19-year-old Scot from just across the Firth of Tay, on the 19th hole.

On the 18th green, as Holland was lining up a two-foot putt, he heard someone in the crowd say "miss it" in a stage whisper. After the putt went down, Holland turned to the gallery and shouted: "If you are going to tell me to miss it, do it so I can't hear you."

The fifth round also saw the elimination of the last of the other Americans in the tournament. Gerald Micklem, captain of the British Walker Cup team, defeated Jack Penrose of Miami, Fla., on the 19th hole. Penrose drew even at the 18th but Micklem canned a winning 15-foot putt on the extra hole.

Friday Holland, who never has won a bigger tournament than the Long Island Amateur, meets Alan Thirlwell, a 29-year-old Englishman from Newcastle, in a 36-hole semifinal.

'Dust Off' Pitches Due For 'Major' Discussion

CHICAGO (AP)—The presidents of the American and National Leagues will meet today to discuss tightening the rule on so-called "dust off" pitches in major league baseball.

President Will Harridge of the American League said he will confer with National League President Warren Giles on a possible regulation which would make it harder on pitchers who deliberately throw at batters.

Topping Says Giants Had Stadium Bid

NEW YORK (AP)—Dan Topping, president of the New York Yankees, said yesterday he had offered the Giants the use of Yankee Stadium but was rejected before the National League team quit the city for San Francisco last year.

In a press conference held before Thursday's doubleheader with the Chicago White Sox, Topping vehemently denied charges the Yankees had chased the Giants out of New York.

"We offered Horace Stoneham (Giants' owner) the use of Yankee stadium at his own terms for two years," the Yankee boss said. "Longer if he needed it while a stadium was being built here in New York City for his team."

He implied he would permit a National League team to use his park for a limited period until the City of New York built a ball park for any incoming club.

Viewing Screens Missing Car Found In East Borough

BING CROSBY has been signed to an exclusive, long-term contract with ABC, whereby he will do a minimum of two one-and-a-half hour specials each season. "Bachelor Father" has been renewed for next season, with re-runs filling in for the summer. "Circus Boy" will move to Saturday morning on NBC next season.

Brigitte Bardot may soon be available for TV appearances, and it is anyone's guess who will be the first to sign her. Shirley Temple will probably not appear in her storybook series again until next Christmas, when she will play Mother Goose. "Confession," a unique interview program in which the subjects interviewed are convicted criminals, will debut on ABC Thursday, June 19, at 10 p.m.

The "Silent Service" presentation tonight at 7 on ch. 4 will be "The Pampanito Story," starring Jess Barker and Richard Crenna. American subs roaming the Western Pacific sight a Japanese convoy and attack, unaware the convoy carries a human cargo of Allied prisoners of war. Following at 7:30 p.m. on ch. 4 the nighttime version of "Truth or Consequences" will be seen for the last time, with "The Big Game," a new quiz show, beginning next week at this time.

Gary Merrill and Joanne Gilbert star in "Utopia, Wyo." at 8:50 p.m. on ch. 2 and 10 in the wild tale of two cowboys who come upon a ghost town, which, however, is inhabited, and the people try desperately to remain hidden from the intruders. A mystery drama, "The Seedling Doubt" on "The Frank Sinatra Show" at 9 p.m. on ch. 6 and 7 stars Phyllis Thaxter and Macdonald Carey in the story of a woman who, after three months in a mental institution, returns home and finds herself questioning not only her sanity, but the identity of her own husband.

For Friday, June 6, 1958—Be sure your energies are directed along constructive paths. Be cooperative with those interested in worthwhile endeavors. When important decisions must be made, keep them sufficient to think. April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—Some changes indicated. Try to improve the suitability of your environment or service. Jackie essentials first. A good time for making improvements in the home. May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—Clear out the clutter and move forward with confidence. But don't attempt too much at once. Perseverance and clarity of thought are your best aids today. And don't forget your sense of humor! June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Fine influence. RIT freedom from worry and anxiety are essential to good performance. Be consistent on worthwhile projects. Will enhance your security and peace of mind. July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Cancer's advice applicable to you. Give careful consideration to duties. You will be happiest when dispensing aid and showing consideration to others. Be mindful of health needs; get proper sleep. August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Planetary influences encourage familiar matters, activities in which you have had training or have special talents. You be the judge of which should receive the attention and how hard to work at it. September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Fine Moon, Sun and Saturn vibrations. But how you accent and use them will be the answer. Reconcile and make the most of your assets. October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)—Regular obligations you will have to fulfill, of course; others you have to determine and make your own decisions. But if you sidestep the latter, there will be an obvious gap. Constructive discussion is fine; not argument. November 24 to December 21 (Sagittarius)—One of your best Jupiter days this month. Try for gains wherever possible. Aim high and don't let others hamper your striving. Much can be derived from art. December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn)—Saturn and Jupiter make strong constructive influences. Encourage self-reliance, organizational attainment, mental alertness, popular enterprise and sociability. January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius)—Research, invention and new methods are encouraged now. If you coordinate your interests and cooperate with sound-thinking people, you can attain admirable status. February 20 to March 20 (Pisces)—Travel, matters connected with chemicals, all liquids, science generally should be managed with a lively and increasing bent and a lively and increasing bent and a lively and increasing bent. Be prudent, judicious. YOUR BORN TODAY are of the vital, sympathetic Gemini; you grasp situations quickly and instinctively know effective tactics. You are often self-sacrificing and not as sure of your own talents as you should be.

OIL BURNERS

the Daily Newspaper gives you more for your advertising dollar

6. Newspapers give more flexibility in selling copy than any other medium. An advertiser can tell his story in the size that suits his needs. He can use a two-page spread to tell a detailed copy story, or he can tell his story in the same or smaller space with just a few words. He can run a 100-line or a 1,000-line ad, depending on his budget and strategy. A newspaper offers advertisers more physical and creative flexibility than any other medium.
7. Newspaper advertising offers better retail merchandising than any other advertising. Four million U. S. retailers invest about 2½ billion dollars in the daily newspaper — more than they spend in all other media combined. No other medium has as close a relationship with retailers as the daily newspaper.
8. Newspaper advertising is a safer and surer investment than advertising in any other medium. In some media a good percentage of the results are affected by the variables of the medium, and by the medium's own competition. In newspapers, the advertising stands on its own feet, unaffected by such variables. Newspaper advertising is always ready and waiting to suit the time, place and pleasure of the consumer. The daily newspaper is always selling.
9. Newspaper advertising produces more sales per dollar of advertising cost than do other media. The cost of an advertising medium depends on a combination of two things: First, how much it costs to reach a person with a sales story. Second, what action that sales story causes the person to take — or, how much it costs to make a sale. The best figures available indicate that the newspaper delivers a message to a person for a typical advertiser at a cost at least as low as the cost of delivering the message through television or magazines. And the other eight points guarantee more sales action per message delivered.
